GENERAL PROGRAM INFORMATION

Core compulsory subjects (English, Social Studies, Science and Math) are offered in three programs.

Regular (Courses are numbered 10/20/30)
These are the courses required for entrance to all university programs and many institute programs.

Modified (Courses are numbered 11/21/31)
Modified courses are intended for students who experience significant challenge with the content or pace in the regular program. Modified courses are acceptable for entrance to most trades and some technical programs.

Students require a referral and placement testing before registering in modified programs.

Alternative (Courses are numbered 18/28/38)
Alternate courses are intended for students who have a need for practical academics as well as vocational and lifeskills programs to prepare them for independent living and the world of work.

Note: School policy prohibits students from taking more than one English course per semester unless it is their final semester, in which English A30 and B30 may be taken simultaneously.

School policy prohibits students from taking more than five classes per semester without approval from the principal.
